

John Wilson Fogarty Coats of Arms Collection

COLLECTION, MS B70

DATE

1957

CONTRIBUTOR

Fairfield Museum

ADMINISTRATIVE/BIOGRAPHICAL HISTORY ELEMENT

John Wilson Fogarty, an artist by training, made his living as a photographer and teacher. After his retirement he spent his time researching and painting family crests or coats of arms. , d. ca. 1979.

SCOPE & CONTENT

The collection primarily consists of samples of his work - coats of arms some of which are painted on parchment-like paper. Also included are a letter explaining his work, along with a sample to show clients; photographs of coats of arms which he probably used for research; written descriptions of crests; and a newspaper article describing his work.

Collection Contents

John Wilson Fogarty Coats of Arms Collection

Box 1

6 folders, including marketing materials, research materials, written descriptions, original drawings and newspaper articles

Folder F: Newspaper article

Newspaper article

Folder D-E: Original drawings

Original drawings

Folder C: Written descriptions

Written descriptions

Folder B: Research Materials

Research Materials

Folder A: Marketing materials

Marketing materials